

Women are the biggest group of shoppers in the world and want safe products without hazardous chemicals.

Women believe the European chemicals industry is strong enough to make the transition to eco-efficient production through implementing substitution.

Women believe that substituting hazardous chemicals with safer alternatives is the most effective way to ensure healthy children.

INVITATION

Join us for a
LUNCHTIME PUBLICATION LAUNCH

Wednesday, 4th October 2006
12.30 - 14.00, Room: A1E-3
(Lunch will be served)

Sponsored by
HILTRUD BREYER, MEP AND ZITA GURMAI, MEP

together with
WOMEN IN EUROPE FOR A COMMON FUTURE (WECF)

WOMEN AND THEIR TOXIC WORLD

Women are particularly affected by hazardous, man-made chemicals. This new brochure, the first brochure on chemicals in every day life written for women and by women, examines how women's lives and that of future generations in Europe are threatened by hazardous chemicals, why strong policies such as REACH are needed to end this threat and what women can do to protect themselves.

SPEAKERS

1. Hiltrud Breyer, MEP – Welcome and Introduction
2. Daniela Rosche, WECF – Women and their toxic world
3. Peggy Maguire, European Institute for Women's Health – Protecting women's health with effective policies
4. Cecile Greboval, European Women's Lobby – The EU's Gender Roadmap and REACH: integrating gender into health policies
5. Zita Gurmai, MEP – Closing remarks

Moderator: Sascha Gabizon, International Director, WECF

RSVP:

Nora Schiessler (office of MEP Breyer)
hiltrud.breyer@europarl.europa.eu
phone: 0032- 2- 284 - 5287

For further information:

Daniela Rosche (WECF)
Daniela.Rosche@wecf.org
phone: 0031- 6- 2295 0027