6. Representatives of the European Union, including the Council of European Union, the European Commission and the European Environment Agency (EEA), also attended the meeting.

7. Representatives from the five Regional Environmental Centres (RECs) took part in the meeting: the REC for Central and Eastern Europe (REC-CEE); the REC for the Caucasus (REC-Caucasus); the REC for Central Asia (CAREC); the REC for the Republic of Moldova (REC-Moldova); and the REC for the Russian Federation (REC-Russia).

8. Representatives from the following financial institutions participated: the World Bank, the Eurasian Development Bank and the International Financial Corporation.

9. Many other organizations and major groups, including academia, business, local authorities, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and parliamentarians were also represented.

10. The secretariat was provided by the ECE. A list of participants is available on the ECE website.¹

B. Organizational matters

11. The Conference adopted a Ministerial Declaration (ECE/ASTANA.CONF/2011/2/Add.1). In addition, the results of the Conference discussions are reflected in the Chair's Summary (ECE/ASTANA.CONF/2011/2/Add.2). To avoid duplication with those documents, the present report gives only a brief factual overview of the Conference sessions.

12. The Conference was a paperless event. Official and information documents of the Conference, as well as the presentations, keynote addresses and interventions made at the Conference, are provided on the Conference's website.²

13. The European ECO Forum organized and coordinated the participation of NGO representatives in the Conference. The Conference gathered many business and industry representatives, who also participated in a Green Innovations, Technologies And Ecoservices Fair,³ organized on the margins of the Conference.

14. Daily reporting on the work of the Conference, as well as a summary report at the end of the Conference, was carried out by the Division of Reporting Services of the International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD).⁴

15. The EfE partners organized 43 side events on issues related to the two main themes of the Conference on the margins of the Conference.⁵

16. The Conference opened with a laser show projection on the theme of environmental challenges in the region. The First Deputy Prime Minister of Kazakhstan, Mr. Umirzak Shukeyev, welcomed delegates in an opening address.

17. The Chair of the Conference, Mr. Nurgali Ashim, Minister of Environmental Protection of Kazakhstan, opened the Conference and welcomed delegates. The Chair highlighted that the main objective of the Conference was to address a number of agreed issues under the two main themes of the Conference: (a) sustainable management of water and water-related ecosystems; and (b) greening the economy: mainstreaming the environment into economic development. The Chair also emphasized that the Conference would conduct most of its work in an interactive way in the form of round-table discussions.

18. Keynote addresses were delivered by the Executive Secretary of ECE, Mr. Jan Kubiš, and, via a video recording, by the Executive Director of UNEP, Mr. Achim Steiner.

C. Adoption of the agenda

19. The agenda, as contained in the document ECE/ASTANA.CONF/2011/1, was adopted.

II. The “Environment for Europe” process: 20 years of pan-European cooperation

20. The session on the theme, the “Environment for Europe” process: 20 years of pan-European cooperation, was chaired by the Chair of the Conference, who opened the session with introductory remarks.

21. Mr. Bedrich Moldan, former Minister of Environment and Senator, Czech Republic, gave an address entitled “From Dobříš to Astana: 20 years of pan-European cooperation”. The Executive Secretary of ECE then accepted the Josef Vavroušek Honourable Award, conferred on ECE by the Charta 77 Foundation and the Environmental Partnership Foundation in recognition of the Commission’s extraordinary contribution and support to the EfE process — a process initiated by Josef Vavroušek, Minister-Chairman of the Federal Committee for the Environment of the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic, in 1991.

22. The Chair of the Conference presented the “Green Bridge” Partnership Programme (ECE/ASTANA.CONF/2011/6).

23. The Executive Director of EEA, Ms. Jacqueline McGlade, presented the key findings of the “Europe’s Environment Assessment of Assessments” report (ECE/ASTANA.CONF/2011/8).
